DETAILED ACTION

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Rejections and objections stated in the previous Office action have been withdrawn in favor of new rejections and new grounds of rejection stated in the instant Office action. Applicants' submission filed on May 21, 2004, has been entered.
2. Claims 48-51 are under consideration in this Office Action.

Claim Rejections - 35 U.S.C. § 112, 1st Paragraph

3. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:
The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.
4. Claims 48-51 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention.
The claims are genus claims that are directed toward any hybrid enzyme of any enzymatic and biological activity having an amino acid sequence of SEQ ID NO:6 that is modified by insertion or substitution in at least one of the recited positions with any peptide comprising SEQ ID NOs:1-5, 46 or 50, wherein any compound/material is able to bind to the inserted peptide.
The scope of the claimed genus includes many hybrid enzymes with widely differing structural, chemical, biological, and physical characteristics. Furthermore, the genus is highly variable because a significant number of structural differences between genus members is permitted.
However, the specification describes a genetically modified glucose-6-phosphate dehydrogenase (G6PDH) comprising the amino acid sequence of SEQ ID NO: 6 which is modified to have a peptide inserted into at least one specific position selected from the group consisting of the position between amino acid residues 294-295, between amino acid residues 302-303, between amino acid residues 305-306, between amino acid residues 306-307, between amino acid residues 308-309, between amino acid residues 309-310, between amino acid residues 362-393, the N-terminal, and the C-terminal; wherein said peptide consists of at least 6 amino acid residues of an amino acid sequence selected from the group consisting of SEQ ID NOs:1-5, 46, and 50; and wherein an anti-CRP antibody binds to the peptide (see Table 1 and examples).

The specification fails to provide a written description of additional representative hybrid enzymes as encompassed by the genus claims. Applicants have failed to sufficiently describe the claimed invention, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms that a skilled artisan would recognize Applicants were in possession of the claimed invention.

Amending the claims to recite the following may overcome the rejection: an isolated and genetically modified glucose-6-phosphate dehydrogenase (G6PDH) comprising the amino acid sequence of SEQ ID NO: 6 which is modified to have a peptide inserted into at least one specific position selected from the group consisting of the position between amino acid residues 294-295, between amino acid residues 302-303, between amino acid residues 305-306, between amino acid residues 306-307, between amino acid residues 308-309, between amino acid residues 309-310, between amino acid residues 362-393, the N-terminal, and the C-terminal; and wherein said peptide consists of at least 6 amino acid residues of an amino acid sequence selected from the group consisting of SEQ ID NOs:1-5, 46, and 50.

Claim Rejections - 35 U.S.C. § 112, 2nd Paragraph

5. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

6. Claims 48-51 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

The phrase “has a character that there is a material having binding ability” renders the claims vague and indefinite because the specific identity of the “material having binding ability” is not known and not stated in the specification.
